United States Destroyers Put to Sea

Open Boats; American Ship is Halted.
But is Not Further Disturbed.

By Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—German submarine warfare, brought to this side of the Atlantic Sunday, was pursued relentlessly throughout the night. With the dawn came reports of more vessels torpedoed and sunk.

The captain of the Nantuxet lightship, off which the attacks on passenger and freight ships were made, reported that three German submarines were operating south and southeast of Nantuxet and that a total of nine vessels had been destroyed.

The identity of three of this number was unknown, but ships from the American destroyer flotilla at Newport were searching the seas for the crews that were supposed to have taken to their small boats.

Rushing to give battle to the submarines three British cruisers were off Nantuxet shortly at 4:10 this morning. This was the first appearance of any warships of the British and French patrolling fleet in that vicinity since the submarines began their attacks at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The passengers and crew of the Red Cross steamer Stephano and the crews of the British freighters Strathlene and West Point and the Dutch freighter Blommedijk and the Norwegian freighter Knudsen, destroyed yesterday, were landed at Newport, R. I., today.

The crew of the British freighter Kingston was missing this morning, but the men were reported to be in lifeboats 30 miles southeast of Nantuxet.

Early today the submarine, or submarines, had not been identified, but there is no doubt in the minds of naval officers that one of the engines of destruction was the German U-53, which delivered mail for the German ambassador, Count Bernstorff, at Newport Saturday. The belief is growing that the U-53 is only one of a flotilla of German submarines gathered for attack on vessels of the Allied nations and neutral bottoms carrying contraband of war. Their operations, so far as known have been south and southeast of Nantuxet Island, and from three to 10 miles offshore.

The American steamer Kansas, which was held up by a submarine off Nantuxet at 4:30 yesterday morning, arrived here today. Her captain said that he had turned back in response to the signals of distress from the West Point, but finding that his assistance was not required, he proceeded to Boston.

SEE VESSELS DESTROYED.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 9.—Twelve witnesses' stories of the torpedoing of passenger and freight steamers by German submarines off Nantuxet yesterday were told here today.

According to a report brought by officers of a flotilla of United States destroyers which picked up passengers and crews of several of the vessels destroyed, nine merchant ships were sunk.

One of the submarines is supposed to have been the U-53, which visited this harbor Saturday, and another was declared to be the U-51. Mrs. Henry L. Wilson of Wilkesboro, Mass., a passenger on the Stephano, one of the vessels sunk, said that an officer and several of the crew told her that they had distinctly seen the name U-61 on the submarine that attacked their ship.

Six vessels are known to have been sunk and the report that the total was nine was based on a statement of the captain of the Nantuxet shoals lightship near which the attacks took place. The captain said that three submarines were engaged.

One of the destroyer fleet's crew said he saw a German supply ship attacking the submarine. The American destroyers witnessed the destruction of some of the vessels. In one instance the American boats were so thick on the scene that the German submarine commander asked the destroyers Benjamin and McDougall to make way for him to blow up his prey.

The story of how ships came within range of a U-boat raider so fast off Nantuxet, Sunday, that she had to keep one waiting while she disposed of another, was told today by Arthur Gray, wireless operator on the Norwegian steamer Christian Knudsen.

"We heard the sound of firing some time before the submarine dove in sight," Gray said today, "before we had no idea what it all meant. By the time we had discovered that a submarine was operating in our vicinity it was too late to escape. When we came onto the scene of action the submarine was engaged with the British Stephano. While the passengers and crew of the Stephano were disembarking, the U-boat ran alongside the Knudsen and ordered us to stem nearer the Stephano.

"We were told to pack up our belongings and save the ship, which we at once began to do. We had plenty of time to get off while the submarine was disposing of the other vessels. We had gone some distance away before the submarine fired on the Knudsen. She fired at least 15 shots and these not having the desired effect she cut loose a torpedo which struck the vessel amidships and she soon went down.

The cabin boy of the Blommedijk, a bright lad of about 14, came in on the Benjamin and clutched across the deck with his wooden shoes when called for examination by the physicians. He was the least disturbed of any of the Benjamin for, he explained, this was the third time he had had the experience of being aboard a torpedoed ship.

Rear Admiral Gleaves, commander of the destroyer flotilla, announced today that he had obtained the names of approximately 220 persons, including 33 women and 10 children, rescued from five of the six steamers known to have been torpedoed yesterday by a German submarine. This list did not take into account the crew of the British steamer Kingston, which was still missing at 10 o'clock today.

All hands had been saved, the admiral said, from the steamers West Point, Strathlene, Blommedijk, Christian Knudsen and Stephano.

GERMANY MUST KEEP PLEDGES.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 9.—President Wilson announced today as a result of the German submarine attack on vessels off the American coast "that the German government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the United States." He added that he had no right now to question Germany's willingness to fulfill all its promises.

Just before Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called on the President at Shadow Lawn this afternoon, Mr. Wilson issued the following statement:

"The government will, of course, first inform itself as to all the facts, that there may be no doubt or mistake as far as they are concerned."

The President was represented today as being deeply concerned over the situation although he had no indication from official sources indicating that the promises of the German government had been violated. It was stated a very thorough investigation would be made.

WATCHFUL WAITING ONCE MORE

Republican Candidate Says That No Effort Was Made by Administration to Prevent Rail Tieup, Although Warned Weeks Before of Danger.

By Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—Following is the address which Charles L. Hughes, the Republican candidate for President delivered at a public open-air meeting here today:

"I am not opposed to the principle of an eight-hour workday. On the contrary, I favor it. The general principle of the eight-hour workday is that limiting labor to eight hours promotes health, happiness and efficiency. The whole point is the limitation of hours of labor, that a man shall work eight hours and no longer. The Adamson bill does not provide that. It is a mere pretense to say that it does. It does not limit hours; it simply regulates pay. It is a wage bill.

"Plainly, whether there should be at this time an eight-hour workday in a particular employment depends on the conditions of that employment. Some employments are readily adjusted to it and others are not. Railroads are not like ordinary industries. It was not suggested that it was practicable to put in a true eight-hour day on railroads. Indeed, the contrary was conceded. It is therefore, wholly misleading to refer to this bill as an eight-hour bill. Let the bill be called by its right name. What is fair and right can afford to be described correctly and can stand on its merits.

"What is the purpose of this attempt to make the public believe that this bill fixes an eight-hour workday? Manifestly, in order to endeavor to justify this extraordinary action of the Administration in its abrupt and humiliating surrender of principle in demanding and securing this legislation without any proper inquiry, as the price of peace.

"This encouragement of force, this capitulation of the Administration, is the worst thing that has happened in this country in many a day. What action will a government refuse, if force demands it?

"This bill is a serious blow to labor. It undermines what labor has sought to maintain. It substitutes legislation for collective bargaining. I do not speak of the validity of the bill. I am speaking of its policy from the labor standpoint. Is labor prepared to give up collective bargaining and to have wages fixed by law? If wages can be increased by law, they can be decreased.

"The principle of arbitration has been betrayed. Labor has worked for this principle. It has won important victories and public opinion has developed in its favor. But what becomes of this principle of arbitration, if scouted and force is recognized as victor?

"I believe in the principle of arbitration of labor disputes and in the interest of labor I deplore the surrender.

"But it is said that we were caught unawares. Congress was told that matters had come to a sudden crisis in this particular dispute. What was this sudden crisis, and in what circumstances did it arise? Was it unforeseen? Was inquiry before action impossible? Instead of being impossible, it appears that inquiry had been urged and demanded for many weeks by the business men of the country. How can the Administration say that it was compelled to act without inquiry when throughout this period it had been refusing an inquiry. As early as July 23, 1916, the chairman of the Committee on Railroad Situation of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States wrote to the President as follows:

"I feel constrained to bring to your attention a matter in connection with the controversy between the railroads and the trainmen's brotherhoods in the hope that you will see fit to start an inquiry on behalf of the administration as to the near approach of an actual crisis in the matter and to verify the statement which I herewith submit.

"A resolution for an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission was introduced in the Senate but in the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce it was laid upon the table. A hearing was requested by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and was refused. The following telegram to the President from the chairman of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce, on August 12, 1916, states the case:

"Mr. President, I beg you to consider at this juncture in the railroad situation the desirability of putting the influence of the administration behind the Senate Joint Resolution One Hundred Forty-Five in its present or some modified form. Notwithstanding the obdurate attitude of both sides to this

BIG BASS IS PRIZE CATCH ON POTOMAC

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Smith and daughter Jane of Morgantown, W. Va. have just returned from the West Virginia "brush" where they have spent the summer fishing for the big fish which inhabit the waters of the South Branch of the Potomac river. They had a cottage at Springfield, W. Va. The foregoing is a picture of their daughter, Jane, and Papa Jim's prize bass, thought to be the best catch of the season.

It was a black bass measuring over two feet in length and weighing 5 1/2 pounds. It is thought to be the record of the Potomac river this season and in fact the record of all West Virginia. The bait used was a big load and in the stomach of the bass was found a half-digested half-pound sunfish. The bass was taken on a 10-foot 6-ounce split bamboo trout rod which Mr. Smith has fished with since 1908. This champion bass of the season was taken from heavy waters, Mr. Smith fishing from a light canoe in Taylor's Eddy where the depth is from 20 to 100 feet.

The big bass was taken September 6, and was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Snyder of Connellsville, who with others enjoyed it immensely. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were here yesterday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. They were on their way home from Washington, Pa., where they had been attending the football game.

GAS NOT SHUT OFF.

Change in Line Made Without Inconvenience to Consumers.

A change in the Lyette County Gas Company's line at Baisinger's was made yesterday afternoon without shutting off the domestic supply here. The local field produced enough for the needs of the community although manufacturing plants did not receive their full supply.

The change was made in about three and a half hours beginning at 1 o'clock. The gas company had arranged to blow the fire whistle if it became necessary to shut the gas off.

ONE GARAGE AMONG VICTIMS

Tires, Tools, Fire Extinguishers and Many Other Articles Missing; Some of the Loot Recovered; Other Suspects Are Now Under Surveillance.

Ray Solson, Ray Pike and a youth whose last name is Brown, three young men of town, were arrested Saturday by City Detective J. W. Mitchell and are said to have admitted perpetrating a series of thefts which have annoyed automobile owners throughout this section for the last two months or more.

The stolen goods, some of which Detective Mitchell found, and others of which the young men returned to city hall, include tires, inner tubes, wrenches and tools, fire extinguishers, vulcanizers, tire patches, and various automobile accessories. Only a part of the goods taken has been returned, and Detective Mitchell has released the youths in order that they may bring back the rest of it.

Many of the accessories have not yet been identified, but among the looters are the Connellsville Market, the Hyatt & Marsh garage, the Leasing No. 3 works, and many owners of private garages. Two new tires and several inner tubes are known to have been taken which belonged to the Connellsville Market. Tools were the booty at Leasing No. 3, and a fire extinguisher was taken from the truck which lays tar on the National Pike.

The most recent robbery occurred at the Hyatt & Marsh garage within the past week. The youths broke into this garage four or five times, and last week the owners notified Detective Mitchell, who immediately went to work on the case.

He is still working, and says that the three boys who have been caught are not the only offenders. All the others are known by him, however, and he hopes that they will return the stolen goods at once. In that event, he says, prosecutions in both their cases, and the cases of the boys already arrested, will be less severe. No information has yet been made against Solson, Pike and Brown.

Detective Mitchell caught the boys with the goods on them and brought them to police station, where they admitted the thefts. The detective has made several collections of the accessories which have since been brought in. Those identified as belonging to Hyatt & Marsh have been taken to their garage. Others are in the police station and at Mitchell's home. The Leasing No. 3 superintendent has not yet identified his tools, but it is believed that they belong to the plant.

The series of robberies has been going on for several months. Detective Mitchell says that a gang of young men ranging in age from 18 to 21 years have been working together. A youth who tried to sell a fire extinguisher at a cut rate to a West Side man Saturday will probably be taken in custody today. Others of the gang which hid its spoils behind the Pennsylvania railroad bridge will be given a chance to return the goods before Detective Mitchell arrests them.

Purchase of a Building and an Electric
Crane, to be Erected Soon, Announced.

Announcement has been made of the purchase of a building and an electric crane for the United States Electric Steel Company which is to build its mill in Hard bottom. Both the building and the crane will be erected within the next few weeks. The material is expected to arrive the latter part of next week and the erection of both will be pushed rapidly.

Prospects for the early operation of the mill are regarded by those interested as particularly bright. Contracts have already been awarded for the electric furnace and other material.

Efforts are being made to secure a prompt collection of the first installment on all stock subscriptions, this being necessary, officials say, to insure the success of the venture.

Transport Is Sunk.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The steamship Gallia, an auxiliary cruiser carrying 2,000 Serbian and French soldiers, was torpedoed and sunk on October 4 by a submarine. Thirteen hundred men picked up by a French cruiser and landed in boats on the southern coast of Sardinia, have been accounted for thus far.

PLAN A BANQUET
FOR GUARDSMEN

Local Boys of the Tenth Expect to Reach Here Tuesday Night or Wednesday Morning.

From all indications, Company D will arrive in Connellsville either tomorrow night or Wednesday morning. A telegram dated October 8, received here by A. B. Morton from his son, Captain R. S. Morton, reads:

"Little closer today. Reached Kansas City about 4:30 P. M. Reach Chicago tomorrow night. Pittsburgh Tuesday night. Probably parade there Wednesday morning. Weather gets warmer as we go north."

Preparations are being made here for mustering out at the armory. The transportation notice received here by Western Maryland officials is uncertain. It records that the "Tenth Regiment, on route from El Paso, will arrive in Connellsville Tuesday or Wednesday."

The direction of travel reads "Connellsville to Mount Gretna." If the boys arrive on Tuesday or Wednesday they will be received at the armory by the ladies interested in the company, who intend to prepare a big banquet for them. This was decided upon last night when Mrs. A. B. Morton, Mrs. D. K. Dillworth, Mrs. Blanche Thompson, and Mrs. James Barr took charge of the celebration. They ask that not only mothers with boys in the company, but all interested in doing honor to the returned guardsmen, turn out and help in the preparations.

The ladies in charge will receive sandwiches and fresh fruit at the armory on Tuesday, and they hope to get together a fine banquet for the boys.

GAS EXPLODES;
MAN IS BURNED

Newton Trump Is Palefully Hurt
When He Enters Flame-Filled
Room With Lighted Match.

Entering a room filled with escaped illuminating gas while holding a lighted match in his hand, Newton Trump of East Washington avenue was badly injured on Saturday night, when the explosion occurred. The furniture in the room was damaged to some extent and for a time there was grave danger of a serious fire. Three alarms were turned in, two from boxes and one by telephone. Before the truck arrived, however, the fire had been extinguished.

Mr. Trump resides with his wife in an upstairs flat in the house at the corner of Washington avenue and Vine street. The gas in the flat was turned off Saturday night while owners of the building were making some necessary repairs. It is presumed that before going out for the evening, Mr. Trump opened the stop cock of a gas jet to see if the gas had been turned on, and that he neglected to turn it off again. While he and Mrs. Trump were out, the gas was probably turned on and the room was filled.

Returning at 11 o'clock, Mr. Trump entered the room with a lighted match in his hand. The explosion followed. Neighbors turned in fire alarms, but Mr. Trump, though badly hurt, extinguished the fire himself. The ambulance was on the scene shortly after the arrival of the trucks, but Mr. Trump refused to go to the hospital and was treated at home.

In addition to burns about the face, hands and arms, he is suffering from inhaling the gas fumes. It is believed that the open windows are all that saved him from death. Damage to the room and furniture is slight. The wall paper was burned away and everything in the room was scorched.

A skunk captured in the Maccabee Hall last night threatened to perfume the entire business district. He did the best he could, and those in the vicinity on Sunday declare he was something of a success at it.

A number of men and women were decorating the Maccabee hall room for a dance to be held on Monday night. Autumn leaves and greens had been brought in from the woods. One of the women picked up a few of the pretty boughs and was startled to see a strange-looking animal jump out.

"Oh my! What's this?" she exclaimed. "Have you a kitten here?" Some of the men viewed the intruder but failed to recognize it. Junior Charles B. Pryor decided to

According to the returns made to the county commissioners this morning by the registrars in the seven wards of the city, 2,097 voters registered here on the three personal registration days, the last of which came on Saturday. Compared with 1915, this shows a healthy increase, due to the fact that this is a presidential election year and to the fact that more efforts were put forth to get the voters enrolled. In 1915, the total enrollment was only 1,847. By parties, there were 1,198 Republicans and 645 Democrats enrolled.

On Saturday, 619 voters had their names placed on the lists before the registration places closed at 10 o'clock. This was a record third-day enrollment and it put the total far in advance of any year since personal registration has been in force.

The books of the registrars show a Republican majority in every ward of the city. Even the "Bloody Third," once a Democratic stronghold, has 200 voters who declared their affiliation to the Republican party, 167 Democrats and 41 miscellaneous party preference. The Seventh comes to the front with 215 Republicans to 54 Democrats, with 18 scattering. The other wards show pleasing increases for the Republicans.

The registration figures for the three days are as follows:

Ward 1 1 1 1
First 73 193 96 266
Second 62 97 109 268

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

House at Bear Run Is Peppered by Bullets.

Considerable mystery surrounds the riddling of a house at Bear Run with bullets from a revolver several nights ago. The building had been occupied by C. B. Solson of Connellsville, who managed a saw works near Bear Run, and the foreman of the works.

Early in the evening as a freight train passed the house, a fusillade of shots was heard and bullets came crashing into the building, whizzing about the heads of the occupants. Whoever fired the shots evidently emptied all of the chambers of the weapon into the structure.

A short time later shots were fired at the building from the side of the hill to the rear. A daughter of the foreman was scratched by one of the bullets and one was imbedded in the back of a chair in which she was sitting.

Alarmed by the shooting all of the occupants have moved away and the plant has been closed down.

ARRESTED; GIVES BAIL

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 9.—William H. Brown, whose car ran into six little girls playing along a fence near the Fairview school last Friday, went before Justice of the Peace L. S. Rhodes on Saturday and gave $2,000 bail on a charge of felonious assault and battery preferred by Joseph Zema, the father of Tena Zema, who suffered a fractured thigh and jaw in the accident. William Brown owned and was driving the car at the time of the accident.

The funeral services for Katherine Sheffield, aged 13, who died Friday night at 12 o'clock in the Memorial Hospital here, was held from the Catholic Church yesterday afternoon. The church was crowded and every body was not able to get in the church.

The services by Rev. V. J. Janda were very impressive. The interment was made in the Slavish cemetery. Deputy Coroner Dr. M. W. Horner stated on Saturday after he had viewed the body of the Sheffield girl, that no inquest would be held until after the other five had fully recovered.

According to reports from Greensburg, the car owned by Mr. Brown, figured in another fatal accident about a year ago. It was then owned by Councilman James Fitzsimmons of Scottdale. While driving it one day, Mr. Fitzsimmons lost control and the car left the road. He was instantly killed. The car was afterward purchased by W. H. Brown, a steel troller at the Scottdale mill. It was used by him to drive from his home at Laurelville to his work at Scottdale.

SCHOOLS SHINE IN FIRE DRILLS

Inspectors Pleased With Way Pupils Are Trained to Leave the Buildings.

National Fire Prevention Day, the anniversary of the disastrous Chicago fire, was observed in Connelville today by an inspection of schools by State Fire Inspector James S. Darr, Superintendent of Safety M. B. Fryce, Fire Chief W. E. DeBolt and Superintendent of Schools S. P. Asha. Fire drills were conducted at the South Side, Greenwood, Third Ward and Fourth street buildings during the morning.

Children in the Second Ward and Parochial schools were called out of their buildings by fire alarms this afternoon. A record of the time elapsed between the bell and the departure of the last child from the buildings were kept. The inspectors were highly pleased. Inspector Darr plans a big Fire Prevention celebration in Connelville next October 3. It was impossible to arrange any organized observance this year because of the fact that the city had a celebration of this kind early in September. The national movement is gaining impetus each year.

CONTRACT IS LET.

Pittsburg Firm Will Build Pennsylvania Freight Depot.

The contract to build the new Pennsylvania freight station has been awarded to David T. Riffie, general contractor, with offices in Pittsburgh. Material will begin to arrive in the next few days and work will be started very soon. This information was received by Agent Wilhelm of the Connelville office today.

Bernard O'Connor, who received the contract to do the excavating, expects to start work tomorrow.

The new freight station will occupy the ground upon which the Adams warehouse and Odd Fellows' Temple were located. These have been torn down in the last month. The railroad paid $70,000 for the site alone, and it is said will spend close to $100,000 more on the freight station and yards. Other property to be acquired for additional yard room.

The city is to be asked to vacate Grape alley so that the railroad may not have a crossing running through its yards.

The Township Board to Meet.

The regular meeting of the Dunbar township school board will be held Saturday afternoon at the Arlington Hotel.

controversy, they cannot without repudiating the condemnation of the whole public disregard the request of Congress to withhold action until certain facts can be ascertained which bear directly upon the merits of the demands of the men or the contingent proposals of the roads, facts which must in any event be secured before an arbitration award upon any part of the differences could properly be reached.

"Again, in a letter to the President, under date of August 23, 1916, the president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, stated as follows:

"The railroad situation has assumed so grave a shape in our judgment as to render it now more imperative than at any past stage that the public should be informed of all the facts of the controversy, and thus have the opportunity of giving an intelligent verdict as to the justice and fairness of the demands which have been made upon the railroads, primarily but ultimately upon the public itself."

"The Adams bill was passed on September 1. If the Administration did not desire an inquiry through the Interstate Commerce Commission, it would have been easy to have made provision for an inquiry through a special commission. If an inquiry had been desired it could have been had even if arbitration had been refused."

"The Administration itself was responsible for allowing the matter to reach an acute stage. But even then if instead of surrendering it had stood firmly for the principle of arbitration or of proper investigation before action; it could have easily secured the support of public opinion throughout the country. No group of men would have dared to ignore the public judgment which the President could easily have evoked."

"We have a fundamental issue. It is the issue of free government. It is whether we are a government of laws, or a government by groups who dictate edicts in the form of laws. We cannot afford to have a terrorized administration. We can solve all problems if we adhere to the rule of reason; if we are fair, open-minded and determined to do justice to all according to the facts. There is no other way, and the attempt to turn us over to the rule of force should receive the swift condemnation of the people."

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The Goodwin Company Reorganizes Following the Retirement of F. O. Goodwin.

A meeting of the stockholders of The Goodwin Company, dyers and cleaners, was held Saturday night, following the retirement of F. O. Goodwin as a member of the firm. John B. Davis, vice president, and Miss E. J. Fries, secretary and manager.

F. O. Goodwin was presented with a handsome leather traveling bag by the employees of the company as a token of their esteem. Mr. Goodwin has made no future plans. "I'm looking for a job," he told a reporter, who detected the slightest indication of a smile as he said it.

Mr. Goodwin has been in business in Connelville for 35 years. To his credit is the establishment of two prosperous enterprises, the Connelville Steam Laundry and the dyeing and cleaning business. Both of these concerns are counted among the best in this section of the state.

After the election Mr. Goodwin will go south for the winter. He spends much of his time in Florida, where he has holdings.

Having always taken a leading part in Connelville affairs, it is unlikely that Mr. Goodwin will return to civic obscurity. He has taken some part in politics. As a candidate for burgess some years ago he lost to J. B. Kutz by only 35 votes. His most recent achievement was the Flag Day celebration, when, co-operating with Captain Edmund Dunn, he staged the greatest civic demonstration held here since the centennial of 1903.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

Boastful Ignorance

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health

The boastfulness of ignorance is ordinarily not worthy of comment but when it jeopardizes the health of other people it is perhaps worth while to take up the cudgels.

There is a class of individuals who push all warnings regarding matters of hygiene and usually end their assertions by informing you that their grandfathers never paid any attention to "such nonsense" and what's more they never have and here they are alive and well to show for it. Statistics however, show that these people who violate the laws of Nature often meet an untimely death. Unfortunately, some give an ear to such foolish boasting and run headlong into danger.

The transmission of disease by germs is most frequently attacked by the ignorant. Those people who accept without comment the statement that the world revolves upon its axis as a part of the solar system, and thousands of other things which they are incompetent to work out for themselves, will bluster about the absurdity of germs causing disease. That typhoid fever, diphtheria, yellow fever, tuberculosis, anthrax, malaria, and pneumonia are caused by germs has been proven just as definitely as the fact that the world is round.

Fortunately exposure to disease, even of a communicable type does not always mean that the individual so exposed, will contract it. This is the reason that the boaster may boast and stay And live to boast another day.

PROUD OF TEAM.

Coach J. N. Waukman is very proud of his high school football team. At first it was thought that since the material in the team was very raw that possibly they might not make such a good showing, but their second game was won by a score of 13 to 0 at Connelville Saturday afternoon. William Hawthorne is suffering with a dislocated ankle and Joseph Knowles has a dislocated shoulder. Next Saturday afternoon they will meet Derry on the local field and this year the boys will play their first Thanksgiving game away from home in some time, going to Latrobe for this game.

7-HOUR DAY MINERS' AIM

President John P. White of U. M. W. Declares That Will be the Next Demand on Operators.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 8.—Demands for a seven-hour day will be made by coal miners of the country at coming wage conferences, John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared at the Miners' Day celebration here Saturday.

"Having established the eight-hour day throughout the jurisdiction of our union and likewise the mine-run system, we can well afford to turn our attention to the coming wage conferences to a further reduction in the hours of labor," he said, "for, in my opinion, such a move is necessary if we are to conserve the economic and social welfare of our vast membership. This is made almost essential because of the increased use and introduction of machines. The records show there are more machines used in coal mining now than at any time in our history. So widespread has become their use that pick mining in many districts has become almost a lost art."

"There were in use in the coal mines of the United States in 1913 15,378 machines, producing 242,121,713 tons of coal. In 1914 this number was increased to 16,597 machines, producing 218,399,287 tons of coal. "Despite the depression that prevailed in 1914, reducing the total output of the mines, the machines in operation increased as these figures show. I am therefore impressed with the great fact that if we prepare our movement for the inauguration of this cardinal reform in our coming wage conferences we will be able to secure it and its benefits will redound greatly to the advancement of our people. This will result in an eight-hour day from bank to bank or a seven-hour day on the present basis."

"Thousands of miners from eastern Ohio attended the celebration and participated in a parade which preceded the address of President White. Other speakers were William Green, International secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America; John Walker, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, and John Moore, president of the organization of miners in Ohio.

WILL A STEEL WAR BE WAGED AFTER PRESENT CONFLICT

Differences of Opinion on the Subject Prevail in the Trade.

LARGER PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY

In Both this Country and Europe After the War Than Before It Began; The Belligerent Countries Will Need to Use Steel Rather Than Press Its Sale

In some quarters there seems to be a positive conviction that after the war there will be an international commercial war in steel products. The opinion is not universal but it is expressed in some quarters that must be respected. There is certainly confusion of thought on the subject for there are those whose fears appear to be chiefly whether we shall be able to maintain a large export trade in steel, and others whose expressed fears are that we may not have a high enough tariff to protect our own market, says The American Metal Market.

We are perfectly ready to grant that there will be a large iron and steel productive capacity after the war. There is the direct evidence, in millions of tons of steel a year going out of this country, and hundreds of millions of dollars coming in, that steel is very essential to the prosecution of the war, and it goes without saying that the warring nations are preserving their iron and steel industries, not only the plants but the organizations. At the end of the war the works will be there, many of them, particularly in England, substantially enlarged in fact, and with the men now engaged and those who will return unimpaired they can be operated in full.

As to the works in territory captured by the Germans little is definitely known. The usual assumption is that they are practically intact, but one does not know how much more fighting there will be in the territory involved. However, the total capacity possibly in jeopardy would hardly be more than 10 to 15% of the world's total, and thus it is readily granted that with the plant extension made here and abroad the world's iron and steel making capacity will be greater after the war than just before the war.

By the neutrals steel is used largely for construction purposes. Demand deferred is not lost; the wants accumulated. The neutrals have been starved in steel, having little money with which to buy and being confronted ed by very high prices, high prices at the works and extremely high freights. After the war there will be more credit and steel of course will be much cheaper.

All the belligerent countries will seek trade very actively, but to do business, to make and deliver goods, requires steel. Russia is already engaged in a very extensive railway building operation. The effort to expand trade will involve the employment of steel rather than of selling steel. In rehabilitation after war's damage a great deal of steel will undoubtedly be needed.

It needs but a casual scrutiny of the character and distribution of steel demand in the United States at present, to observe that the present steel demand is quite abnormally proportioned. In the lines of consumption representing new construction the demand is relatively light, much less than it would ordinarily be with the country considerably less prosperous than it is. With export freight rates very high, labor extremely scarce and all materials, including steel, extremely dear, the investor is indisposed to take hold.

With a large demand for steel a trade war is not to be expected. Costs abroad will not be extremely low. Also will be scarce and only bodied men, not cripples, the only men that can work in steel mills, will be scarcer still. Whatever the general wage level abroad the steel wages will be relatively higher than formerly. Our own costs are high, undoubtedly, but we can reduce them considerably, both by introducing more labor saving machinery and by men giving a full day's work for a day's pay. We may find ourselves in a decidedly favorable position for prosecuting export business, but in any event we shall have a magnificent market for steel within our borders.

SUGGESTIONS TO SICK WOMEN

How Many Are Restored To Health.

First.—Almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine most successful in relieving female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates and strengthens the organism; it overcomes disease.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, dizziness and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Fourth.—Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

THE PRODUCTION OF NATURAL GAS BREAKS RECORD

Output in 1915 Greater by 6% Than in 1914 Former Record Year.

MARKET VALUE $101,312,881

Ohio, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kansas and California contribute to the increase; Pennsylvania and Ohio, consume Two-Thirds.

Statistics just completed under the supervision of J. D. Northrop, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, show that more natural gas was used in the United States in 1915 than in any other year. The quantity used was 628,578,342,000 cubic feet, which exceeds by nearly 57 billion cubic feet, or 6 per cent, the former record, established in 1914.

The average price of this gas at the point of consumption was 16.12 cents a thousand cubic feet, and its total market value was $101,312,881, a gain of 0.22 cent in unit price and of $7,196,897, or 7.6 per cent, in total value compared with the figures for 1914.

Credit for the increased production of natural gas belongs, in the order given, to Ohio, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kansas, and California, which together produced nearly 49 billion cubic feet more in 1915 than in 1914. Significant increases, important locally but unimportant as affecting the production of the entire country, were credited to Arkansas, Wyoming, and Missouri.

The increase in the yield of gas may be attributed to, in Ohio, to the remarkable success of drilling in the Cleveland gas field, Cuyahoga county; in Oklahoma to a decided expansion of the local casinghead-gasoline industry and to a greater utilization of the vast reserves of gas in the Cushing district; in West Virginia to increased demand for this ideal fuel from sources outside the state; in Kansas to the continued development of the Augusta gas field, in Butler county; and in California to expanding markets in the southern part of the state and to increased use of casinghead gas for making gasoline.

The principal beneficiaries of the increased production of natural gas were, in the order named, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Ohio, California, and Kansas, which together consumed nearly 28 billion cubic feet more in 1915 than in 1914.

Of the total production of natural gas in 1915, it is estimated that 217,202,949,000 cubic feet, or 35 per cent, was distributed to 2,195,981 domestic consumers at an average price of 23.32 cents a thousand cubic feet, and that the remaining 65 per cent was distributed to 18,558 industrial consumers at an average price of 9.7 cents a thousand. Compared with the corresponding statistics for 1914, these figures indicate, with regard to gas supplied to domestic consumers, gains of 7 per cent in quantity, 6 per cent in the number of consumers, and 0.23 cent in average price; with regard to the gas supplied to industrial consumers, gains of 6 per cent in quantity, 3 per cent in the number of consumers, and 0.12 cent in average price. The percentage of the total quantity consumed for domestic purposes was slightly greater in 1915 than in 1914.

West Virginia easily lead all other gas producing states with an output of 244,094,159 thousand cubic feet, having a value of $39,424,263, but the state held third place in point of consumption, the record being 94,076,799 thousand cubic feet, valued at $7,451,003. Pennsylvania was second in production with 113,591,520 thousand cubic feet, valued at $21,139,695, but first in point of consumption of 176,357,235 thousand cubic feet, valued at $30,987,667. Ohio was third in production, 70,610,032 thousand cubic feet, valued at $17,391,060, and third in consumption of 148,724,989 cubic feet, valued at $31,900,764.

RED SOX TAKE OPENING GAME

Defeat Brooklyn 6 to 5, When Robins' Rally Falls at Critical Point.

Special to The Courier. BOSTON, Oct. 9.—A long, accurate throw from deep short field by George Scott beat Jake Daubert a yard in a race to first base in the ninth inning and gave the Boston Red Sox a 6 to 5 verdict in the first game of the world's series with Brooklyn at Braves Field Saturday. The play brought to a climax one of the most thrilling finishes ever staged in a battle for the blue-ribbon, event of baseball and one which taxed the nervous energy of every one of the 42,000 fans who waited for the final blow.

All the real thrills of the game hinged on this one play. Had the ball gone through to left field Brooklyn would have at least had the score tied, with a chance of taking the lead when they appeared to be hopelessly beaten. To those who follow the American League closely than they do the National it was a mystery why the Robins failed to win out with a ninth-inning rally when Ernie Shore lost both his control and his cunning, but it was the same old story with Brooklyn, a team which rarely "comes back" after it starts to "blow."

Had the Robins been able to give themselves the least bit of help Saturday they would have won in that inning, when ten batsmen went to the plate and four runs were pushed across the plate through Shore's wildness and a fumble by Janvrin. A good clean single or even a sacrifice fly in this inning would have won the game, but the overcautious Robins could not hit the ball out of the infield.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE UPRIVAL"—A five part Metro attraction, with Lionel Barrymore in the leading role is today's feature attraction. The story was written by Lawrence McCloskey and directed by Charles Moran. On Jim Gordon falls the political mantle of his father, "Big Jim" Gordon. The father has been the leader of a corrupt ring, but the son determines to be true to the teaching of his dead mother, and use his position for good purposes. However he is not given credit altruism. It is taken for granted by the general public and by the politicians whose leadership he has inherited that he is a grafter as his father had been. He succeeds in getting the utility bill passed. The New American, a newspaper, under reform management, warns the public against what it calls his hypocrisy. When he gets the Water Rate Bill passed they still accuse him of having some nefarious scheme up his sleeve to defraud the public safety. Benson is a fraud, who is posing as a reformer to further his ends and through an accident Benson's fiancée meets Gordon and she decides to plead with Gordon to have the Sanitary Bill passed and is surprised to meet her friend of the mountains. He tells her that her father is the owner of the houses in the debated districts. He tells her that the destruction of these buildings will mean penury to her. She tells him to go ahead and have the bill passed. Gordon and Joan are left penniless, but they begin life together. Tomorrow "Gloria's Romance," featuring Billie Burke, and "The Dream Girl," starring Mae Murray, who plays the part of a girl born in the slums, her young life surrounded by handicaps on every side, will be presented.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS
President American Society for Thrift

The college is one of the best places to learn the value of thrift. University dormitories also employ many students as waiters, dish-washers, janitors, etc. Many of the girls obtained employment in Fayetteville doing household work for their board and room.

One instance of much interest was that of the Potter family, of five brothers and sisters, from Arkansas County, who graduated in the same class two years ago. This family kept a set of books during their four years in Fayetteville and spent on an average of $160 per year, all of which they earned themselves. Another young man not only worked his way through college during the four years, but had $50 in the bank when he graduated.

Joseph W. Bell, a St. Louis millionaire, recently celebrated his 90th birthday by retiring from active participation in many big business projects. He gives advice thus to those who would be successful: "Make it a point to deposit something in the bank every week. Start with $1 if nothing more and add to it as you can. Women are the best savers. They put away two-thirds of all the money that is saved. When a husband opens an account in her name which can be done efficiently. More than 150 boys and girls last year performed such services as janitor work, being spent."

HIGH SCHOOL LOSES TO SCOTSDALE IN A HARD FOUGHT GAME

Locals Show Promise, but are Beaten Through Lack of Practice.

FUMBLING LOSES THE CONTEST

Connellsville's Failure to Hold the Ball Enables Visitors to Score a Pair of Touchdowns; Return of the Soldier Boys Means Stronger Team.

Fighting all the way, the Connells-ville High eleven went down to defeat before Scottdale Saturday in the opening game of the season. Though disappointed at the failure to win, Connells-ville's loyal supporters were not unusually despondent after the game, for they felt that the team had lost merely through inexperience and lack of practice, and they saw that the strength to win was there. With practically an entirely new team, and having had only a week of real work, the local boys acquitted themselves creditably.

The final score was 13-0. Scottdale made two touchdowns, both in the first half, and failed at one of the goal tries. The first touchdown came only a few minutes after the start of play, after a Mill Town representative had recovered one of Connells-ville's costly fumbles on the 2-yard line. Gove took the ball over on an end run while the Connells-ville players were demoralized by the fumble.

The second touchdown came in the second quarter on the only successful forward pass of the game. O. Loughrey making the catch.

Connellsville's one big star was Captain Paul Duggan. Duggan made consistent gains throughout the game. There was no stopping him, and he was good for eight yards almost every time he started. In the first half, almost unaided, the captain carried the ball about 50 yards up the field, reaching Scottdale's 30 yard line. Here, however, Scottdale held, and Duggan missed a placement goal.

Connellsville's fumbles were frequent and costly. Scottdale's scoring was directly due to the slippery fingers of the orange and black representatives.

Neither team played an open game, and neither team a versatile one. Scottdale tried a few forward passes, one of which was completed, but Connells-ville did not try a single one. Trick plays were conspicuous by their absence. Straight line plunges, end runs, and around-the-back runs were almost the only plays attempted. Even on these, the play was not smooth and fast, due, of course, to lack of practice.

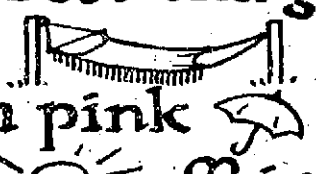

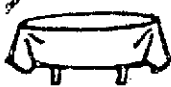

The Connells-ville lineup showed some strength, although it is made up of green material, and there is good reason to believe that it will develop into a winning team. With the addition to its ranks of the soldier boys who are expected to return at any time, the eleven will gain much.

The crowd at Saturday's game was large, though the Scottdale turnout was rather disappointing, only about 125 coming over from the mill town. After all expenses are paid, the Athletic Association will likely have a nice sum left in the treasury. The new fence was up, and Patrolman McDonald and J. Francis saw to it that no one climbed over. Everyone who saw the first half paid for admission.

The student bodies of both high schools did a little cheering and performed snake dances between the halves.

The game in detail: P. Duggan kicked off. O. Loughrey received the ball on his own 15 yard line and returned it to the 30 yards. After several ineffectual line plunges Scottdale got first down on a recovered fumble. Gove went around right end for a 10 yard gain. Time was called for Knowles who hurt his shoulder. Beddows replaced Knowles at full back. Hilton kicked. Connells-ville fumbled and Harry recovered the ball on Connells-ville's 2-yard line. P. Duggan fumbled on first down and it was Scottdale's ball. Gove took the ball over on an end run. Gordon failed to kick goal. Score, 6-0. Mumaw kicked off. P. Duggan, who received, being downed on his 15 yard line. V. Duggan gained 8 yards around tackle and P. Duggan made first down. Ashe recovered a Connells-ville fumble. P. Duggan made first down on three plunges. Leichter was called behind the line and made 8 yards around left end. P. Duggan made 2 more and it was first down. Steady gains by P. Duggan and Harry took the ball to Scottdale's 25 yard line. Leichter fumbled but recovered and time was called.

P. Duggan started the second quarter with a 5 yard rush, but here Scottdale held and the captain was forced to try a goal from placement, which failed. Scottdale put the ball in play on their 20 yards and Gordon carried it 15 yards around right end. Two end runs and a plunge failed. Gordon was thrown for a loss and it was first down for Connells-ville. P. Duggan fumbled on the first play and it was Scottdale's ball again. Gordon made 10 on an end run. Hannigan replaced DeBolt at left end. Head Linesman Bloom said that Hannigan talked to players before reporting to the referee and Connells-ville was penalized 10 yards. Scottdale tried a forward pass. It was a 15 yard loss and O. Loughrey carried it across the line for the second touchdown. Gordon kicked goal. Score, 13-0. Harry fumbled the kickoff, but recovered. P. Duggan made first down on two plunges, but Leichter fumbled for an 8 yard loss. After several ineffectual attempts to gain, J. Loughrey kicked 15 yards. Scottdale fumbled, and fumbled again on the first rush but recovered both times. Hawthorne went in at left tackle for

R. Canlin. Hilton kicked just as the half ended.

P. Duggan kicked off. Mumaw got the ball on his 20 yard line and ran it back to the 40. Small hit the line for 10 yards. Scottdale was penalized 15 yards for holding. Hannigan threw Gordon for a 5 yard loss and Scottdale kicked from their 20. It was Connellsville's ball on Scottdale's 40 yard line. P. Duggan rushed on the fourth down stopped about 2 feet short and it was Scottdale's ball.
Hilton kicked. P. Duggan made 9 yards around left end and Moore made it first down. Moore gained 6 more but Scottdale then held for downs.
Mumaw, starting from his 20 yard line, carried the ball 15 yards on an end run, but was winded when tackled.
W. Canlin replaced him. Hilton made a pretty punt for 30 yards. Paul Duggan and Ashe made 20 yards between them. Ashe was knocked out.
Hornor taking his place. It was Scottdale's ball on downs. End of third quarter.

Mumaw went back at end, W. Canlin being taken out. Hawthorne was hurt by Stuffer when he hurt his knee.
Scottdale's rushes failed and Hilton kicked to Harry who received the ball on his 20 yard line. P. Duggan made first down in two rushes. Hannigan recovered a bad fumble and J. Loughrey kicked. Gordon receiving. Connells-ville gained the ball on downs.
Moore, brought behind the line, made the longest run of the game when he carried the ball 25 yards around end.
Lyon went in at half with Hornor replacing Harry at quarter. Hannigan was thrown for a loss, and J.
Loughrey kicked as time was called.
